

ROSE ROMANCE

Greetings:

- Yes, my Beloved?
- What is it you desire?

Goodbyes:

- If that is all you need...
- Alright then, my Beloved.

Collide:

- Oh! Keep your hands to yourself.
- Do be more careful.

Follow:

- To the moons and back, always.
- Anywhere you go, I will follow.

Wait:

- I'll be here then. Do hurry.
- Sigh Would you stay if I protested more?

Trade:

- Hm? You require something. I'm not sure if I still have it.
- What is mine is yours, Beloved.

Do Something:

- If it pleases you, then what is it you ask?
- Show me what I must do.

Accept:

- So simple.
- This is child's play for me, Darling.

Decline:

- I'm afraid I cannot do that.
- I am unable to do so.

Dismiss:

- My passion for you cannot be stopped even if you send me away.
- Follow the trail of rose petals I left for you. It will lead you to my heart. To home.

Idle Chatter:

- Looking into your eyes, I forgot this world and found a new world within you. I found all of me in you.
- I want to pull you close, skin to skin and feel our hearts as one.
- From the moment you called my name, I knew what home was.
- Your eyes are like ocean's and I'm drowning again.

Idle Chatter Home:

- This place is mundane without you here.
- Hm, we appear to be missing a few novels in the newest collection.
- What I would do to be out and seeing the world again...

- This place is so quaint, I wonder how I could make it more grandiose?

Child Directed Chatter:

- Play quietly in your room and do not make a mess.
- Did you finish your chores? No? Then go and finish them at once.
- Aren't you looking well kept today. What a good child you are.
- Making friends with the other children? I am proud to have such a social butterfly.
